Draft article under Article 19, Régime of Islands

1. Maritime spaces of islands shall be determined according to equitable principles taking into account all relevant factors and circumstances including, inter alia:
  - (a) The size of islands;
  - (b) The population or the absence thereof;
  - (c) Their contiguity to the principal territory;
  - (d) Whether or not they are situated on the continental shelf of another territory;
  - (e) Their geological and geomorphological structure and configuration.
2. Island States and the régime of archipelagic States as set out under the present Convention shall not be affected by this article.
