

International Seabed Authority Goes Digital @ISBA 23rd Session

For the twenty-third Session, the Authority is offering all conference participants a carbon friendly solution aimed at reducing paper wastage through efficient use of print-on-demand services and by making available all public documents on its website. Requests for print of documents can be made at the dedicated Print-on-Demand desk that has been set up in the Reception area of the Conference Centre.

The portal will contain the following:

- Daily ISBA Journals
- All official documents
- All statements made at the Assembly and the Council

Statements in either PDF or WORD must be submitted via email to: News@isa.org.jm at least twenty-four hours in advance of their designated speaking slot or in person to the Conference Officer in the Conference Room in hard-copy or USB stick. Statements submitted for circulation will be under embargo until delegates deliver their remarks.

Delegations are kindly requested to provide 15 hard copies of official statements for interpretation and other services.
